Invention No. 12 in A Major for Viola Duet (BWV 783) Bach, Johann Sebastian

About the artist

I'm a software engineer. Basically, I'm computer geek who loves to solve problems. I have been developing software for the last 25+ years but have recently rekindled my love of music.

Many of my scores are posted with individual parts and matching play-along however, this is not always practical. If you would like individual parts to any of my scores or other specific tailoring, please contact me directly and I will try to accommodate your specific needs.

Comment: All this Invention's basic materials are set out in the first couple of measures; as the bottom part trots up and down a stair-step figure, the top part plays a tiny motif consisting of a trill and an unornamented note, repeated once and creating a skipping rhythm. The top then follows this with a more extended trill before taking up the stair-step material, whereupon the bottom has a go at what the top has accomplished so far. Soon that third tr...
