(A Living, Junk Eating, Interstellar Spacecraft)

A piano miniature inspired by an eight-year old's creative artwork as seen below

Astro-Terrapin 1

(A Living, Junk Eating, Interstellar Spacecraft)

From a single point in space far away comes a speeding UFO. The strange object suddenly slows to reveal a terrapin shaped spacecraft. The terrapin is alive and sustains itself by gobbling up space junk. Musical snips borrowed from earthly tunes prove that some of the galactic trash has blue planet origins. It seems like a lonely existence for the mysterious bioship as there is, so far, no evidence of an Astro-Terrapin II. Bon appetite Astro!
